Liberal Learning – students with an ELEM or ECEM major need just one LL course in addition to their double majors, and they must take American history. All other Liberal Learning classes are taken inside the ELEM or EACH or ENGA majors. Students who elect not to take their VPA inside the English major must give up one of their free electives to take a VPA. “Gender” and “Global” can be combined with many English electives, or can be combined with American History, or can be combined with a free elective, or can be part of the FSP. “Race and Ethnicity” is taken inside the ELEM or EACH major.

An English elective is any class with a LIT, CWR, or LNG prefix. Classes in other programs can be petitioned to be English electives, but only one English elective can be taken outside of the three English major prefixes. At least five English major classes must be taken at the 300 level or higher. Many English classes can be taken out of order, but no one may take two LIT 499 classes at the same time, and Approaches is a pre-requisite for LIT 499. Students who elect not to take LIT 310 must take RAL 225 or ECE 102 in place of one of their free electives.

The School of Education does not allow students to take any additional classes during either Clinical I or Clinical II. Students may need to overload in the sophomore year. A student who wishes to Study Abroad should consider a summer or winter term class, Global Student Teaching, or sophomore year. By taking a VPA inside the English major, and by taking LIT 310, a student reduces her School of Ed program from 17 to 15 courses.

A student always needs at least 11 English major courses, all the requisite ELEM or EACH major courses, and at least 32 course units to graduate. See your advisor.
